

Dr Revathy Carnagarin, MBBS, MS (by research),DM.D., Ph.D., is an Indian medical graduate, completed her PhD (Endocrinology) with IPRS at The Curtin University, Australia and post doc clinical research training at The Harvard Medical School and has currently joined The Dobney Hypertension Centre, Royal Perth Hospital, UWA as Clinical Research Fellow. She has received the Platinum PhD Award 2016 from the Australian Society of Medical Research, Endocrinology Early Career Award 2017 from the Endocrine society, USA, National Heart Foundation Miles Award 2018. Dr Carnagarin is an emerging physician scientist working on various aspects of Hypertension, cardiovascular and metabolic research with a specific focus on the role of sympathetic nervous system activation. She has been conducting research to identify the immune drivers and the gut microbiota changes in various form of hypertension and to identify patient characteristics to personalise effective hypertension pharmacotherapy in obesity and to develop treatment guidelines for obesity- related hypertension.